Sam Houston State University Food Science and Nutrition Program
Information to Prospective Students and the Public Checklist (Standard 9, Required Element 9.3)

Instructions: Complete the table below indicating where the program's information to prospective students and the public is located and easily accessible to students/interns.

Information to Prospective Students and the Public (Standard 9)	Information Location Include an active website link for each required element (9.3.a-l)
Required Element 9.3: Information about the program must be readily available to prospective students and the public via a website and must include at least the following:
a. Accreditation status, including the full name, address, phone number, and website of ACEND on the program's website homepage.	On Program Home: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/
b. Description of the program, including mission, goals and objectives.	Under Missions, Goals and Objectives: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/program-mission-goals-and-objectives.html
c. A statement that program outcomes data are available on request.	Under Mission, Goals and Objectives: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/program-mission-goals-and-objectives.html
d. Information about the requirements and process to become a registered dietitian nutritionist (CP, DI, DPD, FDE, IDE)/ nutrition and dietetics technician, registered (DT), including education, supervised practice, passage on the CDR credentialing exam and state certification/licensure, if applicable; and how the program fits into the process.	Under RDN requirements: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/requirements-to-become-a-rdn.html
e. Cost to student, such as estimated expenses for travel, housing, books, liability insurance, medical exams, drug testing, background checks, verification of student identity (such as for distance learning), uniforms and other program-specific costs/fees, in addition to any institutional fees and tuition.	Under Program Expenses: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/program-expenses.html
f. Application and admission requirements for all pathways and tracks for which the program is accredited.	Page 6 on student handbook.
g. Academic and program calendar or schedule.	Under Course Work: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/Course+Work+and+Sequence?com.

h. Graduation and program completion requirements for all pathways and tracks for which the program is accredited.	Under Course Work: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/Course+Work+and+Sequence?com.
i. Availability of financial aid and loan deferments (federal or private), scholarships, stipends and other monetary support, if applicable.	Under Program Expenses, provides link to more information: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/program-expenses.html
j. Computer matching information, if applicable.	Under RDN Requirements, provides link to more information: https://www.shsu.edu/academics/health-sciences/family-and-consumer-sciences/undergraduate/food-science-nutrition/requirements-to-become-a-rdn.html
k. Guidance about distance education components, if applicable.	N/A
l. If students are required to locate their own experiential learning sites/supervised practice sites and/or preceptors, requirements for this must be described.	N/A